

Begbroke Science Park is situated some 7 miles north of Oxford City Centre on the A44:

Directions from the South:

From the A34 Peartree Roundabout take the A44 for about 2 miles until you reach the village of Yarnton. After passing through the village on the dual carriageway, turn right at the roundabout marked Sandy Lane. Along this lane you will pass Yarnton Nurseries & Garden Centre on the left; a further quarter of a mile will bring you into open country and the entrance to the Science Park on the left hand side. Follow the entrance road round to the left. The visitors car park is situated on the right (signed).

Directions from the North:

From Woodstock, travel south on the A44 and pass through the village of Begbroke on the dual carriageway. About quarter of a mile after leaving Begbroke, turn left into Sandy Lane at the roundabout. Along this lane you will pass Yarnton Nurseries & Garden Centre on the left; a further quarter of a mile will bring you into open country and the entrance to the Science Park on the left hand side. Follow the entrance road round to the left. The visitors car park is situated on the right (signed).